MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

With the arrival of 2020, it is incredible to imagine everything that we have accomplished in The University of Alabama Libraries during 2019. We are approaching the end of our three-year strategic planning process, having so far met more than 90% of the goals and objectives identified in our initial environmental scan and SWOT (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats) analysis that are in line with the University's Strategic Pillars. With our plan as a guide, the dedicated work of our faculty, staff, and students, and the support of our donors, we have continued to improve our collections and services. In the past five years we have climbed 10 spots to be ranked 68th among the 124 most prestigious research libraries in North America. Since this is a first in The University of Alabama's history, we are very proud of this accomplishment and will continue to build upon it through continuous quality improvement.

2019 heralded the beginning of several renovation projects currently underway in Gorgas Library. We finished the construction of our library annex addition, which will allow us to continue to respond to the changing space needs of our students and faculty when they are conducting research. The University Libraries collectively represent the largest classroom on campus, and, while our databases were searched almost 7 million times by UA students and faculty, our physical spaces have never been busier. We had more than 1.5 million visitors to our libraries this year. Beautifying and updating our facilities is essential for creating inviting learning and research environments for students and faculty alike, and I am thankful for the support that has made these updates possible, as well as the patience of our faculty, staff, and students while this work continues.

We are also seeking exciting opportunities for innovation that advance the mission of the University, and we have made great strides this year. We have dramatically expanded our preservation and digitization efforts, enabling access to University Libraries Special Collections for students and scholars around the world. This, of course, includes our most popular initiative among alumni, the digitization of The Corolla, which was completed this year as a result of your generous support through Bama Blitz. We have expanded the development of our Institutional Repository, increasing the research impact of University faculty and student scholarship at the national and international levels. We have currently made more than 3,500 theses and dissertations available, as well as 2,400 faculty articles through the Institutional Repository's open access model, and we are adding more every day. The Institutional Repository has been used more than 1 million times by scholars around the world since its inception in 2017.

As a development partner in the international FOLIO library services platform project with Birmingham-based information industry leader EBSCO Industries, we reached several milestones and are on the cusp of bringing new content and delivery systems online in an effort to serve our stakeholders in more impactful and cost-effective ways. As a leader in library instruction and digital research in the Southeastern Conference, UA librarians taught 1,071 research workshops to more than 21,000 University students. Creating online digital content that helps students navigate and critically reflect on scholarly information plays a complementary role in our teaching and learning goals, and our faculty librarians have seen 300% growth in our digital learning object usage over the past five years with 21,000 uses last year alone. We hosted another successful Digitorium conference on teaching digital humanities for the international research community, and our 3D technologies instruction has been tremendously successful with the advent of the 3D Tech Fair for The University of Alabama community to explore 3D printing and scanning, structure sensors, 3D stereoscopic vision, and virtual reality.

In our commitment to outreach to the State of Alabama, hundreds of events took place in our libraries. Of prominence, the University Libraries Alabama Center for the Book hosted the "Letters About Literature Award Ceremony" and reception, participated in the Alabama Writers Symposium, and sent a delegation to the National Book Festival. The Alabama Center for the Book, along with The Alabama Writers' Forum, made preparations to host The Alabama Writers Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony at the Bryant Conference Center on March 9, 2020. We also sponsored several exciting and well attended events with visiting scholars this year, including Joseph Connolly, Aerospace Engineer at NASA Glenn Research Center, and Margaret J. Foster, Systematic Reviews Coordinator from Texas A&M University.

Through the generosity of our donors, University Libraries Special Collections enhanced our collections of rare books and manuscripts in Latin American cultural and political history. We were able to expand our documentation of the exploration and settlement of Alabama, adding rare and unique books, papers, letters, diaries, maps, photographs and artifacts to our collections. We are delighted to have been a partner in the celebration of the State of Alabama's Bicentennial this year, hosting an exhibit of Alabama history in the Wray and Joan Billingsley Pearce Foyer of Gorgas Library, and hosting the Alvin Rosenbaum Lecture on the history and importance of Mussel Shoals as our young nation's first frontier. Equally, through a significant grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, we completed the processing and digitization of historical newspapers from Alabama that are currently being added to the Library of Congress Chronicling America website.

As we close out 2019, we want to extend our heartfelt thanks to the University Libraries Leadership Board and to our donors and our colleagues across the State of Alabama and throughout the United States. We are accomplishing great things at The University of Alabama Libraries, and we are able to achieve these things through your continued support!

GORGAS LIBRARY RENOVATION PROJECT

*Artist's conceptual rendering

May of 2019 marked the beginning of several exciting renovation projects in Gorgas Library

- Updating and enlarging all restrooms in the building.
- Replacing the existing staff elevator that will serve all 10 floors of the building and replacing the cars and controls in the two main passenger elevators.
- The renovation of Java City.
- The addition of a Mother's Nursing Room on the first floor.
- The creation of a new circulation service point on the second floor and updating the elevator lobby.
- Enlarging and renovating Gorgas Room 205 meeting space to include a second meeting room with storage and a caterer preparation space and replacing the current technology with state of the art presentation capabilities.

Java City renovations were completed in August of 2019

Renovated restrooms on the first floor of Gorgas opened in October of 2019

The Nursing Mothers' Room on the first floor of Gorgas also opened in October of 2019

RENOVATIONS

Elevator Projects are underway and slated for completion in 2020.

Expanded and updated high-tech meeting rooms that serve a multitude of campus stakeholders opened in November 2019

RENOVATION EVENTS

University Libraries held several fun food-centered events to thank faculty, staff, and students for their patience during the renovations.

Pictured:
National Guacamole Day,
National Pizza Day, and National Taco Day.

*Other events included National Chocolate
Cupcake Day and National Cookie Day.*

MEETING SPACES GRAND OPENING

We hosted the The University of Alabama Libraries Leadership Board Fall Meeting on Friday, November 15, 2019. Attendees participated in a Grand Opening Ceremony for the new meeting spaces that included a ribbon cutting, followed by a tour of Gorgas renovations, a luncheon and meeting, concluding with a tour of the annex addition.

Leadership Board members participated in a naming contest for the new spaces.

The Leadership Board honored Director of Administrative Services, Harriet Deason, following her presentation, for her work planning for and managing the bidding process, contractor timelines, and budget concerns.

Dean Gilstrap addresses the Leadership Board members.

MEETING SPACES

Meeting space 1, formerly room 205

Meeting space 2

NEW CIRCULATION SERVICE DESK

The new Circulation Services Desk was installed the first week of December 2019, and features more storage for specialized AV items that we provide for students, as well as space for reference librarians to conduct research consultations.

RENOVATION ARTIST GRANTS

University Libraries awarded five Artist Grants to students who beautified spaces affected by the renovations.

ANNEX ADDITION

The annex addition was completed in November 2019, providing state-of-the-art climate controlled archival storage, with an advanced clean agent fire suppression system for our growing Special Collections.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The primary function of a special collections library is to promote scholarship by providing researchers access to items of enduring historical value while ensuring their longevity through physical and digital preservation. Our collections document exploration and settlement of the area that became Alabama, the cultural, political, social, and economic history of Alabama and the South, the Civil War and Reconstruction, slavery and its abolition, and African American history, including the Civil Rights Movement. This past year we continued to enhance a recently established collection of Latin American cultural and political history, particularly of Mexico and Brazil. We bring together such rare and unique materials as books, papers, letters, diaries, maps, photographs, prints, music, and artifacts.

FY 2019 PROJECTS

- Launched CONTENTdm as Special Collections digital assets management system, migrated 423,248 images of digital content (comprising 114,417 items) from Acumen, and added 18,912 images of new content, totaling 442,160 images.
- Completed first-year production goals of a two-year grant of $324,774 from the National Endowment for the Humanities National Digital Newspaper Program to digitize Alabama's historic newspapers on microfilm.
- Identified 5,000 linear feet of University Archives, congressional and manuscript collections, and 12,000 published items of low use, including government documents and serials, for transfer to the state-of-the-art archival Annex scheduled for completion in Fall 2019.
- Digitized two LGBTQ collections, the Tuscaloosa Lesbian Coalition Records and the Billy Jack Gaither Collection, with total LGBTQ content of Alabama-related images totaling 6,692 images.
- Digitally published Miracle and Mystery: A Guide to the Wade Hall Collection highlighting rare 19th and 20th century items in Special Collections.
- Processed more than 60 linear feet of manuscript and photographic materials and reorganized approximately 22 linear feet of Wade Hall collections by consolidating 660 small collections into nine subject-based collections.
- Built and provided developmental and editorial support for the website for Persuasive Weapons: WWI Propaganda Posters.

FOLIO 2019

University Libraries entered into a beta-development partnership with EBSCO Industries and the FOLIO community to participate in creating a next generation library services platform, updating the tools that libraries use to acquire, describe, manage, and make our resources available. The FOLIO project (future of libraries is open) aims to facilitate a sustainable, community-driven collaboration around the creation of a modern technology ecosystem that empowers libraries through open source applications to manage library resources and expand library value. As a development partner with Birmingham-based industry leader EBSCO Industries, we are committed to continuous improvement of the quality of our content and delivery systems in more impactful and cost effective ways. The current system the University Libraries use, Voyager, was installed in 1998, and despite many upgrades, is reaching a natural end-of-life. FOLIO will replace Voyager and enhance our ability to streamline processes, integrate more closely with other systems, and will also support faster development cycles, plug-and-play functionality, and independent feature deployment.

To participate in the FOLIO project, University Libraries brought together representatives from all areas of the libraries into an implementation team: acquisitions, metadata and cataloging, electronic resources, circulation, reserves, interlibrary loan, liaisons, assessment, and technology. This group has actively engaged with the broader, international FOLIO community that guides the development process through identifying requirements, building use cases, testing models and code, evaluating functionality, discussing priorities with other subject matter experts from around the globe, and training library faculty and staff on the system. We are very proud of the work our faculty and staff have put into this project, and we continue to seek out exciting opportunities for innovation that advance the mission of the University.

INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY IN 2019

We have dramatically expanded our preservation and digitization efforts, enabling access to our collections for students and scholars around the world. Through the continued development of our Institutional Repository, we are increasing the research impact of faculty scholarship of the University at the national level. In 2019 we increased our holdings in the IR to approximately 6,000 unique files. 3,419 of these are Theses and Dissertations and 2,461 are articles, almost double what were loaded in 2018. This past year we created the George Rable Civil War Indexes collection. There are over 1,200 indexes so far and more are added monthly. The IR has had over 900,000 visits, and averages 47,000 visits per month, or 1,500 a day.

INSTRUCTION

UA librarians taught 1,071 research workshops to more than 21,000 students. This includes assisting students with 3D printing and high end audio, video, and print production.

OUTREACH

University Libraries hosted the 3rd Annual Ice Cream Social on the Quad as part of welcoming students back to campus in August of 2019, providing students with over 400 bottles of water and 600 popsicles and ice cream sandwiches!

TENURED FACULTY EVENT

For the past three years, University Libraries has hosted a reception for newly-tenured and promoted faculty from across the campus. The reception offers an opportunity for faculty to interact with each other and a chance for us to congratulate our colleagues and celebrate this significant achievement.

DIGITORIUM

Inspired by working with scholars and students, Digitorium was created five years ago by the Alabama Digital Humanities Center, located in Amelia Gayle Gorgas Library, to bring students, faculty, and scholars together to discuss the wide range of digital methods which are used and shared by researchers, graduate students, and practitioners from the humanities and the social sciences. The three-day conference was sponsored by University Libraries, the Hudson Strode Program, the Department of English, and the Department of History.

ENDOWMENTS AND GIFTS

The creation of endowments, major gifts, and individual monetary donations supports the advancement of The University of Alabama Libraries. During this past year, donations and funds from endowments were used to purchase new books and media for our collections, improve library spaces, and assist in staffing.

We would especially like to recognize and thank those who provided major gifts, those who preserve the legacy of The University of Alabama through their establishment of endowments, and those who have contributed at the individual level. Your gifts afford us the tools and opportunities to advance the educational and research mission of the University while supporting our faculty and students to achieve their greatest potential, create change, and positively influence the world.

IN MEMORIAM 2019

Bobbie Sue Eads began working in the Copy Center in Gorgas Library in 1987 and retired in 1998. She was a member of the group who produced a newsletter each month, The Rotunda, which provided information about current events and activities in the libraries, as well as updates about new services, and news about faculty and staff.

Kaye Gapen served as Dean of the University Libraries at the University of Alabama from 1981-1984. She had a storied career in higher education, later serving as Dean of the General Library System at the University of Wisconsin, Madison (1984-1990); Director of the University Library at Case Western Reserve University (1991-1996); and Director of Library and Academic Services, Trinity Washington University (2005-2007) and Vice President and Provost (2007-2009).

Joyce Mizer worked in Government documents for more than 20 years and retired from the University approximately 25 years ago.

Connie Mobley worked in various staff positions in the Libraries in the 1980's and 90's.

Lynn Tobola graduated from The University of Alabama with BA and MA degrees in American Studies and an MLIS. She worked at The University of Alabama for 35 years as a Reference Librarian from 1984-1989, and as a Social Work Librarian from 1989 until this past July when she retired from the University.

Kelsey Starling was a student worker for the University Libraries prior to graduating summa cum laude in 2015.

Gwen White worked for the University of Alabama Business School Library, as it was known before the Bruno Business Library was built, for several years.

MISSION, VISION, VALUES

Our...

Mission

The University of Alabama Libraries are essential in advancing the educational mission of the University. We provide innovative instruction, services, and resources to facilitate teaching, research, and learning. The University of Alabama Libraries are committed to be student-centered and research-focused in order to support discovery, learning, and creativity at the Capstone.

Vision

We envision a future in which faculty and students have in-depth awareness of the resources available, skills to evaluate them, and a desire to pursue life-long learning.

Values

- Providing excellent services and learning experiences for all members of the University community while promoting collaboration.
- Openness to diverse voices and perspectives for exchanging information and ideas.
- Access to comprehensive scholarly information resources that support campus curricula and contribute to the impact of the research life cycle.
- Assessment and continuous improvement of our practices with a culture of accountability.
- Training and technology that support innovation and entrepreneurship.
